

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED UNIVERSITY REGULATION

6C2R-3.0041 Student Organization Conduct Code

This entirely new Student Organization Conduct Code parallels its companion revised Student Conduct Code in most ways. It provides for organizational responsibility for offenses to which individual students are subject. It also provides procedural rights and safeguards to the organization with changes from the Student Conduct Code where necessary as applied to an organization. In addition to the changes in the Student Conduct Code summarized in the companion Regulation Notice most of which also apply to student organizations, provisions peculiar to this organization conduct code include:

--Expanded definition of group responsibility contains guests, contractors, and agents of the organization

--Update to open house party offense for ease of reading
